There was no copy in the Church catalogue, nor in the John Carter Brown, Huth, nor other large libraries recently dispersed; in fact we can find no record of any offering of a copy since the Brinley and Stevens sales of 1880 and 1881.

The Brinley catalogue states : This is "A reprint of the First Part of [Some Reasons and Causes of the late Separation, etc]. THE KENTUCKY RESOLUTIONS OF 1798

364. KENTUCKY RESOLUTIONS. Legislature of Kentucky. In the House of Representatives, November 10th, 1798. Folio, Broadside, 1p. Preserved in a 4to, half morocco case.

[At end:] Approved November 16th, 1798. James Garrard, G. K.

By the Governor, Harry Toulmin, Secretary of State.

[Lexington or Frankfort, 1798]

This broadside is one of the most important public documents in

ITS EFFECTS, EVER PASSED IN AMERICA, BEING THE EARLIEST OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF "STATE RIGHTS" AND THE FOUNDATION OF THE LATER CLAIMS MADE BY THE SOUTHERN STATES WHICH RESULTED IN THE CIVIL WAR.

In Shaler's "History of Kentucky" he says: "The original record of the Kentucky resolutions was lost by fire, and for many years it has been believed by the students of the history of that Commonwealth that no attested copy of the original was in existence. Knowing that a copy of the document was sent to the Governor of Massachusetts, it seemed to me worth while to search for it in the archives of the secretary's office of that Commonweath."

This copy was discovered, and a second copy was discovered later and passed into a private library in Louisville. Those two copies were all that were known to E. D. Warfield when he prepared his "Kentucky Resolutions of 1798." In 1901, a third copy was discovered, and passed into the hands of E. Dwight Church and is now in the Huntington library.

These three copies were in quarto and were undoubtedly the Second Printing.

THE PRESENT COPY IS THE ACTUAL FIRST PRINTING OF THIS IMPORTANT DOCUMENT. It is a single sheet, the type measuring 15 x 9 ¾ inches, printed in four columns, with the heading "Legislature of Kentucky" in large black capitals extending across the top of the sheet, with a double rule above and below.

A comparison of this Broadside with the first page of the quarto edition, shows that the two, except the heading, were printed from the same setting of types, BUT THERE CAN BE NO DOUBT THAT THIS FOLIO IS THE EARLIER OF THE TWO.

It seems quite probable that this first folio issue was printed for the use of the members of the Kentucky legislature, and that for sending to the Governors of other States, the types were re-arranged, and the neater, more compact four-page issue was prepared.

365. [KIDD (CAPTAIN).] A Full Account of the Proceedings in Relation to Capt. Kidd. In two Letters. Written by a Person of Quality to a Kinsman of the Earl of Bellomont in Ireland. Small 4to, polished Cambridge calf, richly gilt, gilt edges, by Morrell. London, 1701

Fine copy of the Scarce FIRST EDITION. When Lord Bellomont came to America as Gov. of the Colony of New York, the neighborhood was a sort of rendezvous for pirates, and he early began to take measures to suppress them. Col. Instead he turned pirate himself. Laid in is a fac-simile of the Agreement between the Earl of Bellomont and Captain Kidd.

The translation includes the whole of tracts I and II, printed in Black Letter and parts of III. and V. printed in Roman. This is a particularly difficult book to procure in good condition, but aside from the title and last leaf being soiled, and one catchword cut into, this is a very desirable copy.

Amsterdam. 1620

The atrocities depicted on these fine old copper-plate engravings are most inhuman, and in some instances of such a nature as to be almost incredible. Apart, however, from their being records of tyranny they are valuable historically because they show the appearance of some of the buildings in various streets and squares of the cities of Flanders, Brabant, etc., in the 16th century; furthermore, small vignette portraits of the Duke of Alva and his generals are inset in many plates. the second part contains Las Casas' Relation of the cruelties of the Spaniards towards the Indians. Amsterdam, 1698. This work has its separate title and pagination, and refers to the Indies voyages. Sabin did not know of it.

The one following the privilege, with the heading printed mainly in italic type: the common form found in other copies of 1611 and 1612 and it is the text of this one which is found in the 1618 edition.

The greatest difference in the text is on the second page, lines 9-13 of the cancelled form "Temion de ceci soit que toutes les Tables geograpgiques sont faulse," etc. Several extra lines are inserted in the enlarged Dedication.

The present copy contains also "Les Muses" together with the EXCESSIVELY RARE "RELATION DERNIERE dece qui s'est passé av Voyage dv Sievr de Povtrincovrt en la Nouuelle-France depuis 20. mois enca." Paris: Chez Iean Millot; 1612.

THIS LITTLE WORK OF 39 PAGES IS SO RARE THAT AS LONG AGO AS 1878 Sabin merely cited the work without locating a copy. The De Puy copy, apparently the FIRST TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION, was by itself. In the present instance it appears with "Histoire de la Nouvelle France" IN THE ORIGINAL VELLUM BINDING, showing that IT MUST HAVE BEEN ISSUED WITH THE WORK.

Lescarbot was the friend and companion of Poutrincourt on his voyages, and "Histoire de la Nouvelle France" relates the earlier voyages. This relates Poutrincourt's voyage of 1610. He had promised to take Biard the Jesuit along but sailed from Dieppe leaving Biard at Bordeaux. He had with him a priest, La Fleche, who on his arrival devoted himself so earnestly to converting the Indians, that he baptised 21 of them in a single day. The report of the wholesale conversions on this voyage confirmed the Jesuits in their notion of sending Missionaries to the New World and Biard and Masse were sent out in 1611. The story of how it became necessary for the friends of the Jesuits to purchase the interest of two Huguenot merchants—Poutrincourt's partners—before they could leave, and their voyages, is here told.

THIS WORK THUS BECOMES THE FIRST OF THE JESUIT RELATIONS. H. 26. ONLY SIX COPIES OF THIS "Relation Derniere" APPEAR TO BE KNOWN.

Henry Stevens, in his Historical Collections, Part II, 1886, gives strong evidence to prove that it could not have been earlier than 1625, or later than 1637, while White Kennett makes it the FIRST COMPLETE EDITION, placing it under the date 1597. THE EXCESSIVELY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION.

THIS WORK, WHICH MUST ALWAYS BE CONSIDERED AS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT RELATING TO THE EARLY DAYS OF THE COLONISTS AT PLYMOUTH, WAS THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED IN GREAT BRITAIN ON THE SETTLEMENT OF THE PLYMOUTH COLONY. It contains an almost daily journal for the first twelve months, including accounts of "A Journey to Packanokik, the habitation of the great King Massasoyt"; "A Voyage made by ten of our men to the Kingdome of Nauset, to seeke a Boy that had lost himselfe in the woods"; "A journey to the Kingdome of Namaschet in defence of the Great King Massasoyt against the Narrohiggansets," etc.

On the fly-leaf is a pencilled note by Mr. Ferguson, which we quote in full:

"In the Church Catalogue this is stated to be of the second issue. But in my opinion the reason which is given for presuming it to be of the later issue SHOWS IT TO BE OF THE EARLIER ISSUE. Moreover, it is more likely that the words 'New England in America' were added to the heading on page 1 rather than taken away, as the headlines throughout the book have this wording, which was seen to be more appropriate for a heading than that given at first. F. S. F."

The present copy is a splendid one, with the single exception of a very slight shaving of top and bottom lines of the title-page.

The Territory to which the Ordinance applied is that now included in the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. IT IS THE BILL OF RIGHTS OR MAGNA CHARTA of those great States. Of this important document Daniel Webster remarked:

"We are accustomed to praise the law-givers of antiquity; we help to perpetuate the fame of Solon and Lycurgus; but I doubt whether one single law of any law-giver, ancient or modern, has produced effects of more distinct, marked, and lasting character than the Ordinance of 1787."

THE ONLY COPIES CITED IN THE CHURCH CATALOGUE ARE IN PERMANENT LIBRARIES, viz: Lenox (2); New York Historical Society; and Library of Congress.

It is interesting to note what Mr. Cole remarks: "In its breadth of conception, its details, and results, it has been perhaps, the most notable instance of legislation that was ever enacted by the representatives of the American people."

An ORDINANCE for the GOVERNMENT of the TERRITORY of the UNITED STATES, North-West of the RIVER OHIO.

BE IT ORDAINED by the United States in Congress assembled, That the said territory, for the purposes of temporary government, be one district; subject, however, to be divided into two districts, as future circumstances may, in the opinion of Congress, make it expedient.

Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the estates both of resident and non-resident proprietors in the said territory, dying intestate, shall descend to, and be distributed among their children, and the descendants of a deceased child in equal parts; the descendants of a deceased child or grand-child, to take the share of their deceased parent in equal parts among them: And where there shall be no children or descendants, then in equal parts to the next of kin, in equal degree; and among collaterals, the children of a deceased brother or sister of the intestate, shall have in equal parts among them their deceased parents share; and there shall in no case be a distinction between kindred of the whole and half blood; saving to all estates to the widow of the intestate, her third part of the real estate for life, and one third part of the personal estate; and this law relative to descents and dower, shall remain in full force until altered by the legislature of the district. And until the governor and judges shall adopt laws as herein after mentioned, estates in the said territory may be devised or bequeathed by will in writing, signed and sealed by him or her, in whom the estate may be, (being of full age) and attested by three witnesses; and real estates may be conveyed by lease and release, or bargain and sale, signed, sealed, and delivered by the person being of full age, in whom the estate may be, and attested by two witnesses, provided such wills be duly proved, and such conveyances be acknowledged, or the execution thereof duly proved, and be recorded within one year after proper magistrates, courts, and registers shall be appointed for that purpose; and personal property may be transferred by delivery, saving, however, to the French and Canadian inhabitants, and other settlers of the Kaskaskies, Saint Vincent's, and the neighbouring villages, who have heretofore professed themselves citizens of Virginia, their laws and customs now in force among them, relative to the descent and conveyance of property.

Be it ordained by the authority aforesaid, That there shall be appointed from time to time, by Congress, a governor, whose commission shall continue in force for the term of three years, unless sooner revoked by Congress; he shall reside in the district, and have a freehold estate therein, in one thousand acres of land, while in the exercise of his office.

There shall be appointed from time to time, by Congress, a secretary, whose commission shall continue in force for four years, unless sooner revoked, he shall reside in the district, and have a freehold estate therein, in five hundred acres of land, while in the exercise of his office; it shall be his duty to keep and preserve the acts and laws passed by the legislature, and the public records of the district, and the proceedings of the governor in his executive department; and transmit authentic copies of such acts and proceedings, every six months, to the secretary of Congress: There shall also be appointed a court to consist of three judges, any two of whom to form a court, who shall have a common law jurisdiction, and reside in the district, and have each a freehold estate in five hundred acres of land, while in the exercise of their offices; and their commissions shall continue in force during good behaviour.

The governor and judges, or a majority of them, shall adopt and publish in the district, such laws of the original states, criminal and civil, as may be necessary, and best suited to the circumstances of the district, and report them to Congress, from time to time, which laws shall be in force in the district when the organization of the general assembly therein, unless disapproved of by Congress; but afterwards the legislature shall have authority to alter them as they shall think fit.

The governor for the time being, shall be commander in chief of the militia, appoint and commission all officers in the same, below the rank of general officers; all general officers shall be appointed and commissioned by Congress.

Previous to the organization of the general assembly, the governor shall appoint such magistrates and other civil officers, in each county or township, as he shall find necessary for the preservation of the peace and good order in the same. After the general assembly shall be organized, the powers and duties of magistrates and other civil officers shall be regulated and defined by the said assembly; but all magistrates and other civil officers, not herein otherwise directed, shall, during the continuance of this temporary government, be appointed by the governor.

For the prevention of crimes and injuries, the laws to be adopted or made shall have force in all parts of the district, and for the execution of process, criminal and civil, the governor shall make proper divisions thereof—and he shall proceed from time to time, as circumstances may require, to lay out the parts of the district in which the Indian titles shall have been extinguished, into counties and townships, subject, however, to such alterations as may thereafter be made by the legislature.

So soon as there shall be five thousand free male inhabitants, of full age, in the district, upon giving proof thereof to the governor, they shall receive authority, with time and place, to elect representatives from their counties or townships, to represent them in the general assembly; provided that for every five hundred free male inhabitants there shall be one representative, and so on progressively with the number of free male inhabitants, shall the right of representation increase, until the number of representatives shall amount to twenty-five, after which the number and proportion of representatives shall be regulated by the legislature; provided that no person be eligible or qualified to act as representative, unless he shall have been a citizen of one of the United States three years and be a resident in the district, or unless he shall have resided in the district three years, and in either case shall likewise hold in his own right, in fee simple, two hundred acres of land within the same:—Provided also, that a freehold in fifty acres of land in the district, having been a citizen of one of the states, and being resident in the district, or the like freehold and two years residence in the district shall be necessary to qualify a man as an elector of a representative.

The representatives thus elected, shall serve for the term of two years, and in case of the death of a representative, or removal from office, the governor shall issue a writ to the county or township for which he was a member, to elect another in his stead, to serve for the residue of the term.

The general assembly, or legislature, shall consist of the governor, legislative council, and a house of representatives. The legislative council shall consist of five members, to continue in office five years, unless sooner removed by Congress, any three of whom to be a quorum, and the members of the council shall be nominated and appointed in the following manner, to wit: As soon as representatives shall be elected, the governor shall appoint a time and place for them to meet together, and, when met, they shall nominate ten persons, residents in the district, and each possessed of a freehold in five hundred acres of land, and return their names to Congress; five of whom Congress shall appoint and commission to serve as aforesaid; and whenever a vacancy shall happen in the council, by death or removal from office, the house of representatives shall nominate two persons, qualified as aforesaid, for each vacancy, and return their names to Congress; one of whom Congress shall appoint and commission for the residue of the term; and every five years, four months at least before the expiration of the time of service of the members of council, the said house shall nominate ten persons, qualified as aforesaid, and return their names to Congress, five of whom Congress shall appoint and commission to serve as members of the council five years, unless sooner removed. And the governor, legislative council, and house of re-

Together with Privileges and Powers necessary to the well-governing thereof. Folio, full levant morocco (title skilfully repaired and margins of a few leaves restored, by Riviere).

London: Printed, and sold by Benjamin Clark, 1681

The very rare original edition, and the first publication relating to the Province after the grant to Penn. In this tract we have the origin of quitrents, which gave considerable uneasiness in the province. It gives also, a picture of social conditions in England.

London: Printed and Sold by Andrew Sowle, 1683

EXTREMELY RARE, ESPECIALLY WITH THE PLAN. The printer was Andrew Sowle, from whom William Bradford learned his trade. Bradford, the husband of Sowle's daughter, came with Penn to America in 1682. How long he remained in Philadelphia or where he was between 1682 and his second coming from England no one seems to know. It may be, that for a time, he resumed his place in the printing-office of his old master, and if so, it is more than probable that he put into type, this Letter of Penn's which has Sowle's imprint.

The Letter was written by Penn after he had been in America over nine months, and may be considered a report, from personal observation, of what he found his colony to be.

A VIRGINIA ITEM OF GREAT RARITY

648. VIRGINIA. A True and Since[re] declaration of the purpose and [ends] of the Plantation begun in Virg[inia] of the degrees which it had receiued; and mea[nes] which it hath beene advanced: and the resoluti[on and] conclusion of his Maiesties Councel of that [Colo]ny, for the constant and patient prosecution [there] of, vntil by the mercies of God it sh[all] retribute a fruitful haruest to the kingdome of heauen, and this Common-Wealth. Sett forth by the authority of the [Go]uernors and Councellors established for that Plantation. Small 4to, full olive levant morocco, by Rivière. London: Printed for I. Stepneth, [1610]

This volume is of the utmost rarity, but three copies other than the present one being known. This differs from "A True Declaration of the Estate of the Colonie in Virginia," of which a number of copies are recorded.

This is the first tract bearing the endorsement, "Sett forth by the authority of the Gouernors," etc., as in above title, and explains the unsatisfactory condition of the colony by reference to the incompetency of the previous governors, and furnishes perhaps the best historical narrative which was issued by the company during the first period of the plantation.

Brown, in his "Genesis of the United States" believes that this work contains more historical information regarding the foundation of Virginia than any other publication of the authorities or any authorized by them. The Halsey copy.

649. —— A True Declaration of the estate of the Colonie in Virginia, With a confutation of such scandalous reports as haue tended to the disgrace of so worthy an enterprise. London: Printed for William Barret, 1610

Fine copy of the excessively rare first issue of this edition, with the signature "F" repeated. In the Halsey copy, signature "G" was present, but G2 was marked F2.

This narrative was issued at a time when the fortunes of the little colony seemed to be sinking just as Raleigh's first settlement had done. It gives us the first account of the disastrous expedition of Sir George Sommers (or Somers), Sir Thomas Gates, and Captain Newport in 1609, and their narrow escape by falling in with the Bermudas or Summer Islands. Many were advocating the abandonment of the colony, and the work is an earnest plea for its continuance.
